I officially graduated summa cum laude from the University of Pennsylvania with a M.S.Ed. in International Educational Development. I am grateful to my professors, mentors, and peers who have contributed to my personal, academic, and professional growth over the past one year and a half. I am especially grateful for being awarded the UNESCO fellowship, which has allowed me to fully fund my studies while at Penn.

I am excited for what is next and especially applying my acquired skills/knowledge to supporting efforts for social transformation and educational reform in Tunisia and globally.
